DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-57 and claim 67-75 are pending in this application.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 04/07/2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The applicant argues that "one reason is that Matthews et al. do not disclose or otherwise even suggests that such identifying information be included in the dump image."

The examiner disagrees with the above argument. As Mathews states "upon the occurrence of a malfunction that cause the client go off-line, i.e., disappear from the network, a dump image includes the contents of memory, including the operations system (JavaOS in the example), and the code, stack, threads, register, and local/global variables, which can be analyzed at a source level" (col. 2, lines 28-34). The recited claim limitation "including the information identifying a reason for generating a dump file" is the local/global variables. The recited limitation is not explicitly indicated what the information is and how to identify a reason from that information. At this point, the claim limitations are not distinguished from the cited, due to the broad claim interpretation that allows.

Claims 2-19, 21-38, 40-57 and 67-75 are dependent claims which are rejected under the same reason.

Please rejection on 07/20/03 for all the rejected claims.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
